The diagram illustrates the genealogical relationships between two families, the Davidsons and the Crolls, originating from Kincardineshire, Scotland. The chart is structured as a tree, showing the descent from James Davidson (1800 Laurencekirk) and James Croll (1751 Laurencekirk). The Davidsons are connected to the Crolls through the marriage of George Davidson (1768 Kemnay) and Jean Paterson (1748 Inch). The Crolls are connected to the Davidsons through the marriage of George Croll and Jean Milne (1717 Benholm). The chart also shows the marriages of the children of George Davidson and Jean Paterson, and the marriages of the children of George Croll and Jean Milne. The chart is divided into two main sections: the Davidson family and the Croll family. The Davidson family section shows the lineage from James Davidson (1800 Laurencekirk) down to George Davidson (1768 Kemnay) and Jean Paterson (1748 Inch). The Croll family section shows the lineage from James Croll (1751 Laurencekirk) down to George Croll and Jean Milne (1717 Benholm). The chart also shows the marriages of the children of George Davidson and Jean Paterson, and the marriages of the children of George Croll and Jean Milne. The chart is divided into two main sections: the Davidson family and the Croll family.
